

Exposure Visit of Faculty of Forestry students of Birsa Agricultural University Ranchi at IFP Ranchi

20 final year students of Faculty of Forestry, Birsa Agricultural University, Kanke, Ranchi accompanied by Dr. R. B. Sah, Asso. Professor visited Institute of Forest Productivity, Ranchi, on 03/12/2013 for an exposure study tour. Shri Ravi Shankar Prasad, Research officer, Shri Hari Shankar Lal and Anmol Kachhap Forest Physiology & Molecular Biology Division briefed the students about the various research activities of the Institute. The students took active interest in conservation of 21 RET species, Over 200 medicinal plants, oil distillation unit, Bamboosetum, magroove species in the Lead garden of the Institute. Modern nursery practices, clonal propagation and VMG were also demonstrated to the visitors.

