

67th Independence day celebration at IWST, Bangalore.

The 67th Independence Day celebration was carried out with great fervor in the Institute. The program started off with the hoisting of the National Flag followed by the Director's speech. A tree planting program was organized wherein sandal seedlings were planted all around the campus. The programme culminated with a cultural get together with all the employees and their family members.

